On the Sabbath, Jesus healed a woman who had been crippled by a spirit for eighteen years, straightening her back and causing her to praise God.

Jesus warned that some who thought they would be included in the kingdom of God would be left outside, while people from all nations would take their place at the feast in God's kingdom.

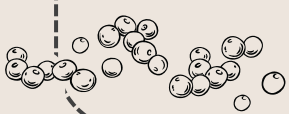

Jesus laments over Jerusalem, saying, "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those sent to you, how often I have longed to gather your children together as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings."

Someone asked Jesus if only a few people would be saved, and He replied, "Make every effort to enter through the narrow door, because many will try to enter and will not be able to."

Jesus compared the kingdom of God to a mustard seed, which grows into a large tree, and to yeast, which works through a large amount of dough.

Jesus told a parable about a fig tree that had not borne fruit for three years. The owner wanted to cut it down, but the gardener asked for one more year to care for it.
